Monday was spent at St. James, and on Tuesday the Brigadier met all the Young People's Workers, the Corps Cadets, the Candidates, and the Young People's Bandmen at tea and Council in the No. 1, Young People's Hall—110 in all being present. This proved a really helpful, encouraging time, and the Briga-

On Wednesday night we wound up the Brigadier's tour with a service at No. 111. We were glad to have the assistance at the city meetings of Mrs. Major McLean and Mrs. Peacock. The North-West Young People's Workers have deep-

About two hundred were present at the final farewell of Captain and Mrs. Blantyre on Monday night. A sympathy here, they had gained—the sympathy of many. Ex-Major Currie presided over the gathering, and under Sergeant Kemp's direction was responsible for arranging the programme, which consisted of recitations, solos, and selections by the Officers and soldiers. The latter spoke highly of the work of The Army, and wished Captain and Mrs. Blantyre God-speed in their appointment to St. Catharines. A hearty welcome awaits Captain and Mrs.

Army Musicians & Singers

During the International Staff Band's recent campaign at Cambridge, London, England, thirty-five souls knelt at the Mercy Seat, Colonel Mitchell, as usual, conducted the Band, and Brigadier Hurten took prominent part during the week-end.

The Gannaque Band is improving. We have welcomed two more Bandsmen—Brother Wm. Tibbett, who has become drummer, and Brother Bert Swann, who has taken up 2nd cornet. On Thursday night, June 12th, we had a musical festival and tea in honor of Brother James Lawson, whom we have welcomed to the band. A big crowd attended. Brother Lawson has taken up solo cornet. Two new instruments and a drum have been purchased for the Band. A young man gave God his heart on June 2nd.

On a recent Monday night the Regina Band serenaded the city in aid of the new instrument fund.

Montreal IV. Band gave an evening of music and song at Missionary Baptist Church on Friday, June 6th—their third visit during the past twelve months. The Pastor, the Rev. St. James, was in the chair.

When darkness came on, the street lamps were out, but the boy scouts came to our aid with candles, so that we could see our music. The offerings amounted to $300.

On Thursday night, our Band conducted the meeting. The testimonies were led by Bandman Pundard. We welcomed Brother Chrisburn from Cardiff Corps. Bandman Simon read the lesson, and Deputy-Bandmaster Jett led the prayer meeting. Three souls sought salvation.

Vancouver: I. Silver Band, says G. A., is acknowledged to be one of the finest in the city, and Bandmaster Bell is ever on the alert for opportunities of turning its services to good account. On the occasion of the funeral of Constable Archibald, who was fatally shot while in the discharge of his duty, the full Band turned out and played in the procession part of the way to the cemetery. On Saturday last, June 7th, the Bandmen in company with Ensign Marshall, visited the city of Burnaby and endeavored by their music to bring some cheer into the lives of the one hundred and fifty prisoners there. The playing and singing seemed to be greatly appreciated, and it is hoped that a similar opportunity will be afforded in the near future.

In connection with Ensign and Mrs. Macdonald's farewell, the Victoria-Silver Band gave a festival on the Saturday night. This was well appreciated by a good audience. The band played some of the latest music, including the "Johannesburg March," and "Rose of Sharon" selection. The Band items were interpreted by vocal solos. An interesting feature was a piano solo by Mrs. T. M. Muth. For the Sunday night's meeting two souls found the Saviour.

In response to the request of a gentleman living in the district, the Lippincott Street, Toronto, Bandmen on a recent Sunday morning, marched to a hospital where that gentleman's wife lay sick, and played to the patients. Old hymn tunes, such as "Wells," "Sovereignty," "Sandon," "Nottingham," and others, were rendered with great blessing to the listeners.

The Band, says J.G., contemplates giving open-air festivals on some of the streets in our district, to get money for new instruments.

to England. They will be absent six weeks (says the Ottawa "Journal").

Calgary I. Young People's Band, like the other departments of the Corps, is booming! There are now over thirty members (according to the Calgary "News"), and they are making rapid musical progress.

The Guelph Band's first musical festival in the Exhibition Park, for this season, was attended by a splendid crowd (says J.R.). The Band's programme included "The Rock," "Consolation," and "Songs of Scotland" selections, and "Happy, Glad and Free," "New England," and "Shipley" marches.

Recently, the Band gave a musical programme at the Elliott Home.

Gary I. Songsters conducted a musical festival in the Citadel, a large and enthusiastic audience was present, says G. L. B. Adjutant Heston was chairman, and added to the enjoyment of the evening. "Let the Saviour In," "Jesus Crucified," "The Storm," and "The Crucifixion" by the Songsters were well received, as was a cornet solo by Bandman Forsythe. Bandmaster Creighton and his Male Choir rendered an excellent selection, followed by a "Humanothon" solo by Bandman J. Garnett. There were recitations by Miss Buckley and Miss Watt; guitar solo (Miss Schenckel), a quartette, "Jerusalem My Happy Home," and solos by Miss McElroy and Bandman Hill. Professor Hawley was pianist.

The next appearance of the Songsters in their white-braided uniforms was commented upon, and a good sum was given for the purchase of a new organ. The Songsters continue to make progress under the leadership of Songster Leader Heston (late of Riverview). The Songsters have been organized about five months.

NORWAY'S MUSICIANS.

(See Photos.) The Staff Band and Staff Songsters of the Norwegian Headquarters, were formed during the summer of 1912, and are now the only band of that country. The Band travels around the territory for the fourfold purpose of soul-saving, improving the standard of Army music, helping and encouraging local Bandmen, and raising money for the advance of the work generally. With the exception of a short furlough period, they are on tour all the year round.

The Band generally comprises twelve instrumentalists and two drummers. The full Band also constitutes an excellent male voice choir, and a string band.

The Scandinavian Staff Singing Brigades are, so far, special to North European countries in that they are composed of young women, and that they are almost constantly on tour. The members enter the Brigades at one year and then, if suitable, may be passed into the Training College. The Brigade, like the Band, is always regarded as a training ground for Officership.

In a recent session at the Training College at Christiania four Cadets were from this Brigade of Staff Singers—a high percentage, as the Brigade does not number more than thirteen or fourteen members, including two leaders. The Singing Brigade also forms a good String Band.

A Simple Tale of a Great Tragedy

COMMANDER EVANS told a simple, many-tale of the tragedy of the Scott Expedition, to the Royal Geographical Society at the Royal Albert Hall in London, England. It revealed not only the continuous misfortunes of Captain Scott's own party, but the hazardous escapes of his own on the return journey after seeing the last of Captain Scott, says "Public Opinion." Here is an extract from the Commander's story.

"On January 3rd Captain Scott came into our tent and told us that he was sure he could reach the Pole if my party gave an man and made the return journey unhindered. Of course, we consented, and Bowers was taken into the Polar party. On January 4th the last supporting party, consisting of Lashley, Cream, and myself, marched south to latitude 82.34 with the Polar party, and seeing that they were travelling rapidly yet easily, we shook hands all round and said good-bye."

"Up to this time no traces of the successful Norwegians had been seen, and we all fondly imagined that our day would be the first to fly at the South Pole. We gave three cheers for the Southern party as they stepped off, and then turned our delectable and commenced our hazardous march of nearly 800 miles. We frequently looked back until we saw the last of Captain Scott and his four companions, a tiny black spot on the horizon. Little did we think that our three cheers were the last appreciation they would ever know."

"The Polar party covered the 145 geographical miles that remained in a fortnight. Captain Scott came across Amundsen's (the Norwegian explorer who first reached the South Pole) dog tracks, and on January 12th he and followed them to the Polar area. Scott, Wilson, Oates, Bowers, and Seaman Evans reached the South Pole on January 17th, 1912. The result of their careful observations located the Pole at a point only differed from Amundsen's reckoning by half a mile, as shown by his flag. Little did we think that our three cheers were the last appreciation they would ever know."

Winning Switzerland

Historic Sketch of the Way Exceptional Difficulties Were Overcome.

Brief reference was made in "The War Cry" last week to the exceptional difficulties and hardships that attended the work of The Army during its first years in Switzerland. The days of trial are recalled by Commissioner Ratten in the following brief historical sketch, which we take from the latest copy of "Under the Colours." The Army's monthly periodical for soldiers and sailors.

"Nothing could ever appear more hopeless than our entry into Switzerland in 1881. There had somehow been an idea that in a country that had stood so desperately and gloriously for liberty there would be no fear of The Army's having to suffer even as it had suffered in England. And the beginning in Geneva seemed to promise well. We had some good friends, who helped us to get the work of the Battalion first, a building, and from the first the meetings were very work, both by our own people as well as by the Norwegian explorers. "On January 19th our hazardous march was commenced. The party had before them a distance of over 500 miles. They got back at a fine of our own on the return journey after seeing the last of Captain Scott, says "Public Opinion." Here is an extract from the Commander's story.

largely attended, and had remarkable results. But, as soon as this was seen, the students began to create disturbances in the Hall, a highly-esteemed lady wrote a pamphlet to attack us as being blasphemous disturbers of the peace, and tumults in the streets gave excuses for police restrictions. Meetings were gradually forced into the early hours of the day, and when it was found that we could get crowds even at five o'clock in the morning, the Cantonal Government issued a decree to 'temporarily' suspend the exercises of The Army. By this time, however, we had got many converts, and as many as eighteen little prayer meetings were held in different homes in the early morning.

"Then the foreign leaders were expelled from the Canton; but they immediately crossed the border into the Canton of Neuchâtel, and began there. In this case, after meetings had been prohibited and had been held in the forest, a Hall of our own was built. But it was closed by the authorities, and kept closed for years. The good work went on all the time, however, and spread to the Cantons of Vaud, Berne, and Basel. In every case there were organized disturbances, and many very atrocious scenes. But Swiss converts could neither be expelled nor silenced, and the persecutions had the effect of stirring many people to action. The Army, and resulting in many conversions. "An English Officer was imprisoned for a hundred days in the Chateau of Chillon, Canton Vaud, because she had taught some children our songs. Foreign Officers were expelled from one Canton after another, and the roughs were encouraged to break into Halls, destroy seats, and in other ways persecute The Army. "But gradually our comrades won their way, until the country is so entirely changed that now nearly every Canton makes grants in aid of our Social Work. We have 277 Corps and Outposts, under 393 Officers (nearly all Swiss), and for many years we have been allowed not only to hold open-air meetings, as indoor meetings in many places, but, upon special occasions to hold grand demonstrations, including marches through the streets, such as, General and Mrs. Booth have

"Poor Oates' feet and hands were badly frost-bitten. He constantly, appealed to Dr. Wilson for advice. 'What could he do?' Poor gallant soldier, we thought such words of him. Wilson could only answer, 'Slog on.' On March 17th, which was Captain Oates' birthday, he walked out to his death in a gallant endeavour to save his comrades, and as our dead leader wrote, 'It was the act of a brave man and an English gentleman.' He had lived as he died, a magnificent man. "Scott, Wilson, and Bowers fought on until March 21st, only doing about 50 miles in four days, and then they were forced to camp in encountered, and near the foot of the Beardmore poor Seaman Evans died. He was a man of enormous strength, a tried soldier, and a veteran in Antarctic experience. Captain Scott had the highest opinion of this magnificent British seaman. "Then the desperate little band pushed northward with fine perseverance, although they must have known by their gradually shortening marches that little hope of reaching the winter quarters remained. Their best march on the barrier was only nine miles, and in the later stages their marches dropped to three miles. The depots were 65 miles apart, and contained a week's provisions. They must have known that their slow progress was not good enough, but they could not increase their speed over such bad surfaces. seven miles south of One Ton Depot. They were kept here by a blizzard which was too violent to permit them to move, and on March 25th Captain Scott wrote that messages to the pulpit: 'Had we lived, I should have had a tale to tell of the hardship, endurance, and courage of my companions which would have stirred the hearts of Englishmen. These rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale.'

Conversions in Prisons. Do The Army's meetings in the prisons result in actual conversions? Listen! During May, two prisoners in the Farny Sound Jail professed conversion; two in the Ottawa Jail; one at Kenora; one at North Bay, and in the previous month, no fewer than five prisoners were saved in the Prince Albert Jail. These are facts, not guesses.

Oshawa. On Wednesday, June 11th, Lieut. W. Martin farewellled at eleven months' stay (says W.B.). The Lieutenant has worked hard to bring the Band up to its present condition, and the whole Corps regrets his departure. His cheering words and his goodly life have been an inspiration and help to all. He goes to Brampton.

News From the Field

Montreal I.

Dovercourt, Toronto. Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler conducted the meetings at Dovercourt on Sunday, June 15th. Among the interesting testimonies given in the afternoon free and easy was that of Brother Gregory of London 11, who rejoiced in the fact that his six sons and daughters are all serving God in The Army, two as Officers and the others as Locals. At night Captain Gregory gave a testimony.

In spite of the great heat splendid congregations packed the Hall, and the interest was well sustained. Mrs. Chandler takes an active part in all the meetings, giving a very impressive talk at night. The Colonel spoke very convincingly about man's need of Salvation, and our women made up her mind to serve Christ as she sat in her seat. During the prayer meeting, however, she felt that she ought to go to the "Penitentiary" to make known publicly her secret resolve. A young man also came forward.

In the morning a brother who tested in the history of John 13:1 said he obtained this at the commissioning of the Cadets.

Fennelon Falls, Ont.

For the last five weeks, we have rejoiced over souls at the Mercy Seat each Sunday night. On June 8th a Sister got converted after an afternoon meeting had closed, and at night two others sought Salvation.

Several of the recent converts came to the meetings this week-end, (14th and 15th), and in open-air and inside meetings, testified. On Sunday night, the Captain spoke on "The Good Samaritan." Four souls came God.

One of last Sunday's converts brought her husband to the Mercy Seat. Another convert was a sister, one of a recent Sunday's converts.

Pictou, Ont.

Great crowds of people were recently here owing to the visit of a circus. We seized the opportunity of reaching them with the news of salvation, and had two open-air meetings. One man boldly stepped out, and knelt at the Drumhead. We believe a definite work was done in his heart.

Our "War Cry" boomer "got busy" during the day and we sold out our ordinary supply, also thirty extra, which we ordered for the occasion. Captain Kuston led on with the assistance of a good number of the comrades.

Re Opening of Orangeville.

This event has been the cause of much comment, and the reason for display of much sympathy for The Army by all sections of the people. On Sunday afternoon, June 15th, the public welcome meeting of Captain Chapman and Lieut. Linton took place. Mr. Davis, the Baptist minister, gave an interesting and profitable address. At night, we had a rousing Salvation meeting. Brother and Sister Dunk, from West Toronto, helped us by their testimonies and singing. Crowds were present. Over 100 people attended the meetings during the day.

St. Catharines.

The welcome meetings of Captain and Mrs. Blaney were conducted by Mrs. Brigadier Adby during last week-end (June 14th and 15th). We conducted our first meeting in the Public Park. A large crowd was present. The Silver Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster C. Adams, did good service. On Sunday evening a large number of converts were present. Five souls, including three young men, sought Salvation.

London II.

A farewell festival of music was given by the London I. Band on Friday evening (June 13th), (says W.B.).

The programme was much enjoyed by a large audience. Adjutant Geo. Smith was chairman, Ice cream was served at the close. Special farewell meetings were held Sunday (June 15). Captain and Mrs. Adby, who is Junior Sergeant-Major at the Dovercourt Corps, Toronto was a visitor during the week-end, and his addresses were appreciated.

Seaford, Ont.

Captain Hahnd and Lieut. Porter conducted their welcome meetings on June 14 and 15. In the holiness meeting one soul sought Salvation, and came to the other open-air meetings during the day. In his testimony, he stated that the thing which most impressed him was the help of the Officers carrying a man, slightly disabled, into their section, and who was afterwards taken home.

attended, and the Soldiers warmly greeted the new leaders. Saturday's open-air meeting reached a large number of people in the districts. Kneec-droll brought out an encouraging attendance. In the holiness meeting, seven comrades consecrated themselves to God, and at night there were three conversions.

Doting Cove, Nfld.

During the last month over twenty souls have surrendered. On May the 18th we had an enrollment of Recruits. Our comrades are fighting bravely. On Sunday night, June 1st, we held a farewell meeting for some of our comrades who were going to the Islands off shore, where they will engage in the fighting trade. The Hall was crowded. In the early part of the meeting a man was seen to take his cross and leave his seat. We thought he was going out, but instead of that he came to the front and putting his cap on the Mercy Seat, knelt down and sought Pardon. Four others followed his example.

At Ridgeway, Ont., Corps-Cadet Emily Chambers reports a helpful work and a large number of converts present. Five souls, including three young men, sought Salvation.

Regina, Sask.

After 15-months' stay, Adjutant Scott has said farewell, wrote Correspondent Corbin. Every branch of the work has prospered since his arrival in this city. The Majestic Theatre was taken a year ago for the Sunday service, as our Hall was too small. The Vancouver League has been started, also the Home League, which undertakes a Sunday service at the Home League and "War Cry" distribution among the prisoners.

The "War Cry" has increased in sale by 50 copies per week. (Excellent—Ed.) Soldiers' Bibles have been increased by about 50, besides Reprints Our Corps numbers about 100.

On Sunday night Adjutant Scott led the meeting in the Majestic Theatre, which was crowded. Bandmaster Sargent spoke of the blessing he had received through Adjutant Scott, Sister Strathern sang. The Band played a selection, "The Roll Call."

Bandmaster Lawson has farewelled for Ontario. He has been with nine months. Bandmaster Chisham was given a public welcome on Sunday. At the close of the prayer meeting three souls sought Salvation. We are glad to report good things in Brandon, writes Adjutant Major, Chisham to his wife. (We wish you have given us pictures of him.)—Ed.) The band is going forward, and the Junior work is progressing. Our Self-Denial was a real success.

A City's Welcome.

This is how "The North Battleford (Sask.) News" enthusiastically welcomed The Army on the opening of the Corps there a few days ago:—

"The Salvation Army intends locating in our city. They have rented the News Hall twice a week and we are glad to make them welcome. There is a big work for its members to perform in our city. The material, the bulk, the talent, the downfall, and the carrels we have with us. Socially and mentally the saving efficacy of our aggressive organization will constitute a distinct uplift to our people generally. With such a historic past, a conquering present, and an enlarging future, before the representatives of the world circling band of unselfish men and women should find ample opportunity to use their service in the work of the Master's vineyard."

"Welcome to The Army."

Ingersoll, Ont.

Our Officers have been on rest for a couple of weeks. During that time the meetings have been in the hands of the Locals and Soldiers. The meeting on Sunday afternoon, June 14th, was in charge of the young people, led by Sister Mrs. Drake.

The next Sunday was taken by the Band. They held a nice programme in the afternoon. A new corner is being secured for the use of the Deputy Bandmaster.

Last week-end we had with us Captain Martin. His address in the morning was much enjoyed.

Our Officers have been welcomed. They have worked hard here. We pray God the blessing be on them in their next Corps.

Sudbury.

The new Officers, Captain and Mrs. Hancock, arrived on Thursday, June 12th. At night an open-air meeting was held. A poor drunkard standing alone, a poor drunkard knelt at the Drumhead, came to the Hall, and subsequently a Penitent-form was taken.

We have had six souls for the three night meetings held so far.

Missionary's Sorrow

FATHER RETURNING FROM LONG JOURNEY

Finds Children Sleeping on Mother's Grave.

A pathetic description of the sorrows and hardships endured by a Canadian missionary and his family in Brazil is given by "The Montreal Daily Witness."

Broken in health and spirit (we are told), having sustained the loss of his wife, exhausted all his funds in endeavouring to reach home quickly, and, after having sailed from Brazil to New York, being held up by the United States Immigration authorities at New York because of the illness of two of his five children, the Rev. James MacEwen, of Maxwellville, Ont., has recently returned to his native place through the offices of the United States Government, who granted him special transit privileges.

The details of the chain of misfortunes which have befallen Mr. MacEwen are sad in the extreme. He has been acting as Congregational missionary, attached to the church at Bahia, and two months ago he parted from his family, consisting of his wife and five children, to undertake a tour in the interior, about one thousand miles from Bahia.

When at the farthest point in his journey from Bahia, intelligence reached him through native runners that his wife had succumbed to the dreaded malaria, and the missionary immediately used all his money to make a quick trip home. Although he accomplished the trip in the shortest time possible, he found on arrival that his home was broken up, and he discovered two of his children asleep on his wife's grave, from which a path was worn to the house.

Determined to return to Canada for a time to recuperate, Mr. MacEwen took steerage tickets to New York for himself and his children, but at the last moment was prevented from sailing, because his son

George became ill, and the doctors refused to allow him to embark. At last on board, the plight of the minister became known throughout the ship, and a collection of $250 was made to assist him. Still, their troubles were not over, for the Immigration authorities detained Mr. MacEwen and his family, as two of the five children were sick. The circumstances of the case were brought before the authorities at Washington, and, for the first time, in two years special transit privileges were granted.

Across The Border

THE STAFF BAND VISITS THE TWO NIAGARA FALLS AND SUPPORTS COMMANDER EVA BOOTH AT GREAT MEETING.

Niagara Falls: The world-wonder, the mecca of the tourist, and perhaps the most widely-known symbol of Canada and the Canadians. Who has heard of it, and not longed to behold in majesty that mighty torrent, thundering over a 160-foot precipice?

Two Salvation Army Halls are situated within hearing distance of the roaring entrance, one in Niagara Falls, Ontario, the other in Niagara Falls, New York State. It was to both towns that the Staff Band paid a visit during the week-end, June 14th and 15th, and thereby strengthened the bond of love and comradeship existing between American and Canada.

We have always been good friends and neighbours, mind you, in the interchange of Officers clearly signifies. The Salvation Army favours no nationality, has no political bias, and that largely accounts for the warmth of the welcome which the Canadian Staff Band received. But we crossed the International bridge on the strength of our own reputation, and that, too, was considerably wider and higher as recognition of our visit across the border. Leaving Toronto on Friday afternoon, the Band arrived at the Canadian Corps in time for an open-air meeting, during which a halting foreigner, only a labourer, came twice into the ring and threw his money on the drum.

The festival in the City Hall was well attended, and Mayor Cole presided, although, it might here be said, the Band Leader (Brigadier Porter) also Brigadier Adby from Hamilton, who rendered good service during the whole campaign, also occupied the magistrate's dais.

Among the stars of the evening, an old Staff-Bandmaster, Mr. Noek, were appreciated. Saturday morning was spent in place throughout the week-end.

In the Citadel that night, the Band had a distinguished audience, for not only were there present numbers of Bandmen, but also many Officers. Brigadier Potter presided, and the Band made a splendid showing under the baton of Adjutant Hangan. Each section of instrumentalists seemed to vie with the other in the effort to faithfully and tastefully interpret "The Army's Journals, and in the final effects which the Band produced, the soul of the music revealed itself with thrilling and enchanting realism. It was a great musical meeting.

As Colonel McIntyre appropriately styled in the Holiness meeting on Sunday morning was a time when we, bodily and spiritually, "drew apart from the crowd." The Colonel himself led on and gave a number of the Staff-Bandmen an opportunity to speak briefly. Their testimonies were intensely interesting, but, better still, were highly convincing as to the power of God to save to the uttermost. Brigadier Adby, in his address, made a powerful plea for full and immediate consecration.

A coveted honour fell to the Staff Band on Sunday afternoon, when Commander Miss Booth, a former Leader of Canada's forces, gave her wonderful lecture, "My Father," before a huge audience in the Cataract Theatre. The Band furnished music before and during the great meeting, and afterwards the staff of the Band was introduced to the Commander—a privilege one and all enjoyed and will forever prize.

Preceded by the Junior Staff Band headed a procession of Salvationists, including the Buffalo I, and Niagara Falls, N.Y., Bands, through the streets of the City. It was a happy union of the American and Canadian comrades.

Continual Comrades

Captain Frank Ham and Captain Bessie Gough United By Major Morris.

To be married at the Corps out of which they had both entered the Field, and where their parents, brothers, and sisters are all Soldiers, was the happy privilege of Captain Frank Ham and Captain Bessie Gough. The interesting event took place at Dovercourt Citadel, Toronto.

Captain and Mrs. Ham, who are appointed to Yarmouth, N.S.

onto, on Tuesday, June 17th, and attracted a large crowd of comrades and friends.

The wedding was conducted by Major Frank Morris, in whose Division the young couple had each had charge of a Corps. He paid a warm tribute to the character and work of both the bride and groom.

Quite a number of Officers were present to give their blessing to the ceremony, and amongst those who took part in the proceedings were Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel Chandler and Mrs. Major Phillips, who led in prayer. Mrs. Major Morris, who is Colonel and Colonel Chandler, who read a portion of scripture. The Band and Songsters also contributed selections.

Immediately following the ceremony some messages were read, one being from Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin, and one from relatives in Cornwall, England—a wireless message by the way.

Captain Clayton, the "best man," then had a few words to say regarding his friend—Captain Ham. "The failures of both the bride and bridegroom were, of course, called on to speak. Young People's Sergeant-Major Ham said that he was glad that his son-in-law was an Officer of the Army and he had great hopes for his future. He had been dedicated by Lieut.-Colonel Scott at Vancouver. The minister, as an up to regard Officership as an life's work, and the prayers of both father and mother would be for him to Nova Scotia, where he had been appointed. He tried to God and The Army, Frank," concluded the Young People's Sergeant-Major. "And so something for God."

Band-Sergeant Gough was similarly thankful that his daughter was following God in The Army, and he prayed that God would bless her future and give her and her husband much success in their work.

Captain and Mrs. Ham each spoke, expressing their determination to live for God and win souls, and the gathering was closed with prayer by Mrs. Brigadier Hargrave.

MISSIONARY'S SORROWS.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SECRETARY

AN INTERVIEW.

In an interview with the Brigadier, upon his return to Territorial Headquarters, we obtained the following particulars of his tour. At Victoria and at Vancouver he met the Young People's Locals and held Councils with them. About forty were present at the latter place, including some from the New Westminster Corps. The Victoria I. Young People's Band, which is making good progress, rendered good service during his visit. The Company attendance at No. 1 is now about two hundred.

Brigadier and Mrs. Green and Staff-Captain and Mrs. Crichton gave admirable assistance during the Brigadier's stay in Vancouver. The Young People's Secretary also did a useful week-end at Fernie, B.C. Reviewing the whole tour, the Brigadier interviewed over one hundred candidates and prospective members, and he reports that the West will be well represented in the Training College next Session.

The main object of his tour, he says, has been to stir people up to the importance of the Young People's Work, and from the many letters he has received from Young People's Locals expressing appreciation of his efforts, it is evident that something along this line has been accomplished.

On the whole, he has been very favourably impressed with the condition of the Young People's Work in the West, and is of the opinion that if our Local Officers make good use of their opportunities, and take hold of them, there is no knowing what our Young People's Work will grow to in the course of the next few years. "The children are in the 'grove' with the Army out West," he says, "and there is no difficulty in getting them to our meetings."

He made every effort to retain them, and to get them thoroughly imbued with 'The Army Spirit'."

The Brigadier was absent from Headquarters for a period of two months, during which he travelled a distance of 6,450 miles.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the Brigadier and Staff-Captain and Mrs. Crichton, who have been bereaved of their eldest daughter, Margaret. She was 15 years of age and was just about to become a Soldier.

Sudden Death, Sudden Glory

COLOUR-SERGEANT STOCK, OF GUELPH, WHO GAVE A DAY OR TWO BEFORE PASSING, DIES AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

DISTRESSING fatality recently occurred at Guelph, resulting in the death of Colour-Sergeant of the Corps, Brother William Stock, whose death was mentioned in last week's "War Cr." "The Guelph Herald" describes the occurrence as follows:—

"To have his life battered out in an accident in which runaway horses figured was the terrible fate of a respected Guelph teamster, William Stock, who was instantly killed when the team he was driving ran away, after being scared by the yard engine of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The accident, whereby the life of this faithful employee was taken, was a peculiar one, and exactly how he met his death will never be known, although there were several eyewitnesses of the affair. "Mr. Stock was loading his wagon with slabs from a Grand Trunk Railway car on the siding. He had just about cleared away and was preparing to drive away, but the yard engine came along. Without any warning, the team started down the deep incline at a breakneck pace."

"From the story told by 'Chief Finch, of the Fire Brigade, Stock fell forward onto the traces, with his head back of the heels of one of the horses. The team, however, noticed that the tongue of the wagon was at least a foot or more through the neck-yoke, and the horses were rearing and kicking in a frightful manner."

[We are disappointed that the particulars sent us regarding the life and work, the last hours, and the dying testimony of promoted comrades are all too meagre to give to the general. We want to know of such incidents and sayings and expressions of opinion on the part of workmates and others that illuminate the character of the promoted warrior. Will correspondents kindly help us here?—Ed.]

Sister Abigail Thomas, Bonne Bay.

Our sister was a great sufferer for many months, writes Mrs. Captain French, but was very patient under it all. A few days before she passed away I visited her, and when I enquired as to her soul's welfare, she said, 'All is well, I am waiting for the call'."

The funeral service was conducted by Captain French. God bless and comfort the bereaved ones!

"The wagon struck a big tree at the corner of the street, and glanced off to the right, the horses were sent rearing, and the unfortunate man dragging along behind. They ran directly into the C. P. R. sheds, the tongue of the wagon poking a hole through the boards."

"The injured man in some manner became tangled in a rope, which was used to tie on the load, and it was this which dragged him along the ground for a distance of sixty feet. He was picked up as quickly as possible, and was still alive, but before a physician could arrive, the poor fellow had passed away, without regaining consciousness."

"William Stock had been in the employ of Gowdy Bros. for three years, and was considered as a painstaking and faithful servant, a capable man with horses, and trusted in every way. He was an honored member of The Salvation Army, having been their standard-bearer for five years, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and one child, Evan, seven years of age."

Our local correspondent, Secretary James Ryder, supplies us with the following particulars concerning the funeral. The funeral of our comrade was, he writes, conducted by Brigadier Abdy, assisted by Captain and Mrs. Houston and Captain Pemberton. A short service was held at the house and another at the Hall, which was crowded to its uttermost capacity. The procession marched to the cemetery, the Band—which was in full attendance—playing suitable pieces. The last honours due to a Salvation Army Soldier were reverently and impressively given.

"On Sunday night a memorial service was held. I might add that Brother Stock has been a faithful Soldier of The Army ever since he came to reside in this town, nine years ago. On the Sunday previous to his death he testified 'that sudden death to him would be sudden glory.' A new flag, for which he had collected the money, was recently presented by Brigadier Abdy. He waited at the railway station for the flag to arrive until one o'clock on the morning of the funeral, the presentation taking place that same afternoon."

"The War Cr." extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved relatives. Our late comrade was preparing for a new flag, for which he had collected the money, was recently presented by Brigadier Abdy. He waited at the railway station for the flag to arrive until one o'clock on the morning of the funeral, the presentation taking place that same afternoon."

FOR THE GOSPEL'S SAKE

Under such loving care, the man became totally filled in disposition. God's love filled his heart, and he saw things in a new light. Instead of longings for sin and wickedness, he had desires to do nothing for God. Before the Lieutenant left the Corps, his convert took his stand in the open-air meeting, and later on at the open-air testimony thrilled those who stood around, and according to a message received only a few weeks ago, he is still testifying, and proving the worth of his words—that he was 'well saved.'

INDIAN SERGT.-MAJOR. Speaks of His Conversion, and Wife's Dying Injunction. With the photograph of Sergeant-Major Matthew Auckland, who is in charge of the native Corps at Melakalali, D. C. Captain G. S. Ro, of Prince Rupert, sends us an interesting letter which he recently received from the aged Sergeant-Major, which we give in full, and as written:—

"Dear Brother in the Lord—Here I am, Soldier of the Cross of Christ, from my conversion eighteen and a half years ago. I findly take my stand by the Cross of Jesus Christ, fighting against the great adversary, i.e., the devil. I not forget my wife advising me, 'The only way to live is to persevere. For know this: Mrs. Doth is now in the city which Christ has prepared for her and me also. Now I send to you my photograph, for which you ask me. God bless your good work. I am your brother in Jesus, Matthew Auckland."

The Captain says that the Sergeant-Major gave him valuable help on a recent Sunday, when one soul sought God.

DO YOU HAVE FAMILY PRAYERS?

Experiences Wanted for "The War Cr."

Many "War Cr." readers must find helpful things to relate concerning their own experiences of family worship, and we earnestly invite them to tell us how they have overcome the difficulties arising from their crowded lives, how it has helped them themselves, and what it has done for their children.

New Listcard.

The week-end meetings of our late Officers, Captain Daniels and Lieut. Cornell, were times of spiritual blessing.

The Treasurer and Secretary spoke words of appreciation, and two new Soldiers were publicly enrolled.

On Monday a farewell Social was given and largely attended by the citizens and Soldiers. The comrades of Hallybury and Captain Spellar United with us.

CONGRESS AT LAHORE.

Conducted by Commissioner and Mrs. Booth-Tucker. A Congress lasting seven days was recently conducted at Lahore, the Headquarters for the Punjab, by Commissioner and Mrs. Booth-Tucker.

As this city is not situated in the centre of the Army's working field, most of the Soldiers who were present—and seven hundred were at the welcome meeting—had to travel long distances. It speaks of great gratitude and devotion that so many of these poor people paid their own expenses, and lost their earnings for the days they were at the Congress.

The Sunday afternoon meeting was chairmaned by the Hon. Lord Dunsford, P.C., L.L.D., K.C.V.O., the eminent judge who is at the head of the Scottish judiciary.

Among a crowd of distinguished supporters filling the large hall, there were many other prominent members of the community. Indeed, the General and Mrs. Booth, on this occasion have never been gathered in any Army meetings in Edinburgh in such numbers before.

Speaking for them, and to use his own words, "for all Scotland," his lordship paid glowing tribute to the late General, and offered warm welcome to his Successor, in whose hands he said The Army was safe.

The theatre was crowded at night, and both The General and Mrs. Booth gave powerful addresses.

During the prayer meeting that followed forty-four souls knelt on the stage and cried to God for salvation. This made sixty-three for the week-end, and when one remembers that these congregations had been largely cradled in heathenism, which militate against public seeking salvation, the conviction which led these men and women to walk right up on the stage and kneel down under 5,000 pairs of eyes, is something to shout Hallelujah for.

On the following Tuesday, Mrs. Booth addressed a large audience at the Assembly Hall, under the auspices of the United Free Church of Scotland. Sir A. B. Simpson, son president, and General Chalmers, Military Secretary to the Chinese Government, Mr. Munro, K.C., M.P., were among other speakers.

Incidentally Mrs. Booth mentioned that all Salvationists were total abstainers from alcohol, and all Officers and Local Officers of The Army non-smokers.

The following week-end The General conducted a series of great meetings at Leicester—one of The Army's oldest Corps. It was from Leicester nearly forty years ago that The Army Mother, while conducting a great campaign in 1876, wrote her eldest son (our present General), who was then in grave perplexity as to whether he was called by God to take up work similar to his father, and to whom a wealthy friend, recognizing his ability and promise, was offering a university education. Here is an extract from that letter:—

"Oh, my boy, the Lord wants you such as you—just such as you go out amongst the people seeking nothing but the things that are Jesus Christ's. You are free to do it, able by His grace, born to do it, with splendid opportunities. The Lord and you with His strength and your tongue as a flame of fire."

"Your ever loving mother," "CATHERINE BOOTH."

How significant have those words proved! What a prophetic declaration! "You were born to do it," and how marvellously that prophecy is being fulfilled!

The Mayor of Leicester presided over the afternoon meeting in the Palace Theatre, and spoke very warmly of The Army. Ninety-two seekers were recorded during the campaign.

The pleasing sequel to this incident is that on the following Sunday night both the young woman and her mother visited an evening meeting in Koenigsberg, and there gave their hearts to God.

SCANDINAVIAN CONGRESSES

To Be Conducted by The General and Mrs. Booth.

The General is about to embark upon a strenuous campaign in Scandinavia, visiting Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The campaign, open in Copenhagen on June 28th, will be continued, without intermission, in the three countries, until July 13th. Denmark will claim our Leader from June 28th to July 2nd, Sweden July 3rd to 8th, and Norway July 9th to 13th inclusive. The programme, which is a heavy one, includes in each country a series of Officers' Councils, Councils for Locals and Soldiers, and public engagements.

While in Denmark The General will open The Army's new Training College which is being erected in connection with the Jubilee Day celebrations (25th anniversary of the opening of Army Work in Denmark), when a street collection will be made by permission of the King) and as a Memorial to the late General.

Mrs. Booth will not accompany The General to the above Congresses, but is herself preceding to Helsingfors (Finland) where she will conduct the Congress gatherings for that interesting country, from June 27th to July 3rd.

A CALL FROM ALGERIA.

Prodigals of the Strangers' Legion. In Algeria (North Africa) there is a French regiment composed of foreigners, many of whom, having lived reckless lives, go to Algeria to either hide their identity or to call a halt in their recklessness. It is known as the "Strangers' Legion."

Requests have lately reached the Headquarters of The Salvation Army in Germany from the sons of the Fatherland who are in the Strangers' Legion, for Officers to be sent to begin Army Work in Algeria.

Communication has been established with several of these prodigals, and the German "War Cr." is being sent to them.

PRISON PROBATION OFFICER

First Woman in Japan to Be Appointed to This Work.

Adjutant Sadami, of Tokio, Japan, has been accepted by the authorities as Prison Probation Officer. This is a distinct step forward, for the Army, but she is not only the first Army Officer, but the first woman to be appointed by the authorities to this kind of work. She will have free access to the Central Prisons, and any woman who desires to place herself under The Army's care will be brought to one of our Homes by a warrant immediately her sentence expires. The Army will be placed in direct touch with prisoners.

ARMY SONGS

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—Thou Shepherd of Israel,
111; Realm of the blest, 110; The Thou Shepherd of Israel and mine,

Cross now covers, 112; Song-
Book, 395.

The joy and desire of my heart,
For closer communion I long,
I long to reside where Thou art.

Chorus.

Oh, speak while before Thee I pray,
And, O Lord, just what seemeth
Thee good,
Reveal and my heart shall obey.

The pasture I languish to find
Where all their Shepherd obey
Are fed, on Thy bosom reclined.
And screened from the heat of the day.

'Tis there, with the lambs of Thy flock,
There only, I covet to rest,
To lie at the foot of the rock,
Or rise to be hid in Thy breast.

Tunes.—I am coming to the Cross,
81; I'm believing, 83; Song-Book,
483.

2 Come, Thou burning Spirit,
come!

Lo, we stretch our hands to Thee!
From the Father and the Son
Let us now Thy glory see.

Chorus.

Come, Oh, come, Great Spirit, come,
Let the mighty deed be done;
Satisfy our soul's desire—
Now we trust Thee for the fire.

On the altar now we lay
Soul and body, mind and will
All the evil passions slay,
Come and every corner fill.

Now by faith the gift I claim
Bought for me by Blood divine,
Through the all-prevailing Name
All the promises are mine.

FREE AND EASY.

Tunes.—Numberless as the Sands, 260
Jordan.

3 When we gather at last over
And the ransomed in Glory we see,
As the numberless sands on the seashore,
What a wonderful sight that will be.

Chorus.

Numberless as the sands on the seashore!
When we see all the saved of the ages,
Who from sorrow and trials are free,
Meeting there with a Heavenly greeting.

What a wonderful sight that will be,
When at last we behold our Redeemer,
And His glory unclouded we see,
While as King of all kingdoms He reigneth.

What a wonderful sight that will be,
When we see all the saved of the ages,
Who from sorrow and trials are free,
Meeting there with a Heavenly greeting.

Tunes.—Oh, how He loves, 129;
Saints of God, 130; Song-Book,
290.

4 One there is above all others—
Oh, how He loves!
His is love beyond a brother's—
Oh, how He loves!

Earthly friends may fail and leave us,
One day kind, the next deceive us,
But this Friend will never leave us—
Oh, how He loves!

SALVATION.

Tunes.—Oh, how He loves, 129;
Saints of God, 130; Song-Book,
290.

4 One there is above all others—
Oh, how He loves!
His is love beyond a brother's—
Oh, how He loves!

Earthly friends may fail and leave us,
One day kind, the next deceive us,
But this Friend will never leave us—
Oh, how He loves!

Blessed Jesus—wouldst thou know Him?
Give thine heart this moment to Him.
Best of blessings He'll provide thee,
Naught but good shall e'er betide thee.

Safe to Glory He will guide thee.
'Tis eternal life to know Him;
Think, Oh, think, how much we owe Him!

With His precious Blood He bought us,
In the wilderness He sought us,
To His fold He safely brought us.

Guelph.

Envoy Brewer Brown has concluded a successful ten days' campaign at Guelph, writes Correspondent James Ryder. On the first Sunday the Envoy gave the story of his life to a large crowd of people in the Exhibition Park.

At the Drunkard Home gathering a leading tenor singer gave his heart to God. The final week-end meetings, conducted by the Envoy, were very powerful, when 12 souls came forward, making a total for the campaign of 39 souls.

and Canada still loves to serve her with a zeal equally as strong.

Colonel Maidment, our Chief Secretary read the Scripture portion for the afternoon. Mrs. Commissioner Rees was among those present from Toronto.

At night, in a crowded Citadel, Colonel McIntyre conducted the final meeting of the Band's campaign. Brigadier White, Mrs. Brigadier Adey, and Brigadier Porter were among those who took part, and Major Findlay gave a compelling Salvation address. One soul surrendered.
